UNESCO's Comprehensive Study on Internet Related Issues

Submitted by:

Name: Ebrahim Talaee

Gender: Male

Category of Stakeholder: B. academia

Country: Iran (Islamic Republic of)

Region: Asia and the Pacific

1. What can be done to reinforce the right to seek and receive information in the online environment?

Public awareness about what citizens can have access to as their rights.

2. What mechanisms can develop policies and common standards for open-licensed educational resources and scientific repositories, and for the long-term preservation of digital heritage?

National and regional and international forums can assist to reach such common standards

3. How can greater progress be made as regards inclusive strategies for women and girls as well as marginalized and disabled people?

Training coaches who can assist marginalised people

4. How can accessibility be facilitated through increases in locally produced and relevant content in different languages?

Making provisions for translations of already produced contents as well as assisting under represented languages to produce contents

5. What can be done to institutionalize Media and Information Literacy (MIL) effectively in national educational systems?

It requires both policies which reinforce that and more importantly it needs to name it, model it and monitor it by teachers and head teachers themselves, it’s a matter of reculturing education rather than adding a new type of literacy.

6. What are the current and emerging challenges relevant to freedom of expression online?
7. How can legislation in a diverse range of fields which impacts on the Internet respect freedom of expression in line with international standards?

8. Is there a need for specific protections for freedom of expression for the Internet?

9. To what extent do laws protect digitally interfaced journalism and journalistic sources?

10. What are the optimum ways to deal with online hate speech? How can Media and Information Literacy empower users to understand and exercise freedom of expression on the Internet?

11. What are the optimum systems for independent self-regulation by journalistic actors and intermediaries in cyberspace?

12. What principles should ensure respect for the right to privacy?

13. What is the relationship between privacy, anonymity and encryption?

14. What is the importance of transparency around limitations of privacy?

15. What kinds of arrangements can help to safeguard the exercise of privacy in relation to other rights?

16. How can openness and transparency of data be reconciled with privacy?

17. What may be the impact of issues relating to big data on respect for privacy?

18. How can security of personal data be enhanced?

19. How can Media and Information Literacy be developed to assist individuals to protect their privacy?

20. How can ethical principles based on international human rights advance accessibility, openness, and multi-stakeholder participation on the Internet?

21. What conceptual frameworks or processes of inquiry could serve to analyse, assess, and thereby inform the choices that confront stakeholders in the new social uses and applications of information and knowledge?

22. How does ethical consideration relate to gender dimensions of the Internet?

23. How can ethics, - i.e. the simultaneous affirmation of human rights, peace, equity, and justice - inform law and regulation about the Internet?

24. What international, regional and national frameworks, normative guidelines and accountability mechanisms exist of relevance to one or more fields of the study?

25. How do cross-jurisdictional issues operate with regard to freedom of expression and privacy?
26. What are the intersections between the fields of study: for example, between access and freedom of expression; ethics and privacy; privacy and freedom of expression; and between all four elements?

27. What pertinent information materials exist that cut across or which are relevant to the four fields of the study?

28. What might be the options for role of UNESCO within the wider UN system in regard to the distinct issues of online Access to information and knowledge, Freedom of Expression, Privacy and Ethical dimensions of the information society?

29. What might be options for the role of UNESCO in relation to stakeholders outside the UN system?

30. For each study field, what specific options might UNESCO Member States consider?