Youth for change

9th edition • Paris • France
26-28 October 2015

THE UNESCO YOUTH FORUM

Young women and men today are more than ever actors of change and innovation. UNESCO's mission is to ensure that their rights and freedoms are respected in an enabling environment.

Since 1999, the Forum, which is far more than a biennial event, is a space of open and dynamic dialogue allowing young participants, from all Member States of the Organization, to formulate strategic recommendations regarding youth.

Every day, in the framework of its fields of competence, the Organization strives to multiply possibilities, to encourage new initiatives and to incite young women and men to act, at their level, towards changing the world. In order to build a better world, many challenges affecting youth need to be addressed, such as a broader access to education and culture, civic engagement, global citizenship and social inclusion, climate change and its impacts, better sustainable integration in the job market, and the respect of basic rights and freedoms.

Becoming a partner of the Youth Forum means that you support youth across the world. Supporting the Youth Forum demonstrates your commitment to UNESCO's values and ideals.

The 9th UNESCO Youth Forum will look at how youth, committing themselves as global citizens, can contribute to building a sustainable planet.

Exchanges will cover:

- Policy formulation and review with the participation of youth
- Capacity development for the transition to adulthood
- Civic engagement, democratic participation and social innovation

THE 2015 EDITION:

A UNIQUE MOMENTUM

Taking place during the celebrations of the 70th anniversary of UNESCO, the Forum follows the finalization of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) by the UN General Assembly, and precedes the 21st session of the Conference of the Parties to the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change, thus providing a unique momentum during which young women and men can voice their views on all these issues.

AN INNOVATIVE AND ACTION-ORIENTED FORUM

The UNESCO Youth Forum keeps reinventing itself! Its themes and format are designed along with young women and men to provide greater space for interactive and results-oriented exchanges.

Building on the experience drawn from the action projects of the 2013 Forum, new youth-led action projects from all over the world will receive the Label of the 9th UNESCO Youth Forum.

This label, which is a guarantee of quality and excellence, will provide the project initiators with opportunities to mobilize funds, partnerships and international visibility.

We hope you will support these projects!

Do take the opportunity to join the marketplace which will be open throughout the three days of the UNESCO Youth Forum! Partners/sponsors will be invited to host stands and “one-to-one” coaching and mentoring sessions. The young participants will thus have the opportunity not only to meet and exchange good practices, but also to strengthen their own capacities. In return, partners/sponsors will benefit from considerable visibility among a young and high-quality audience from all around the world.

Do not miss the 15 minutes of fame for young leaders and entrepreneurs with a remarkable career or with exceptional projects.

Help us organize unique side- and cultural events to create bonds between youth participants and animate the Forum’s evenings!
