"Women are not just the target of special measures they are the driving force to overcome poverty, reduce hunger, fight illiteracy, heal the sick, prevent the spread of disease and promote stability.

Women are not just poor beneficiaries of foreign aid they are lawmakers, police, mothers, farm workers, sisters, teachers and stewards of our environment.

They are diplomats and they are presidents.

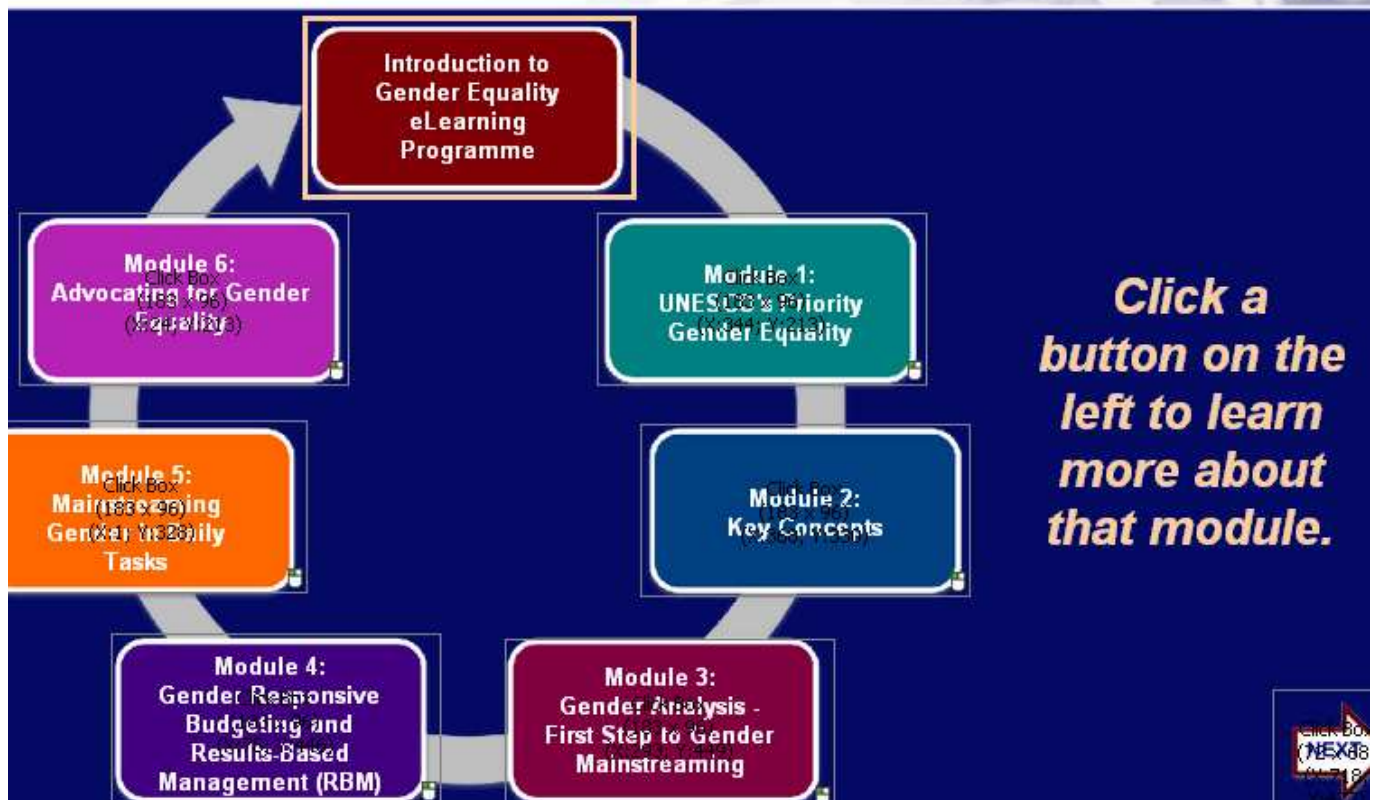

They have the power to rebuild war-torn societies and solidify lasting peace.

If you empower a woman, you empower her children, her community and her country."
