Expert Facility to Strengthen the System of Governance for Culture in Developing Countries

IMPLEMENTING THE UNESCO 2005 CONVENTION ON THE PROTECTION AND PROMOTION OF THE DIVERSITY OF CULTURAL EXPRESSIONS

THE UNESCO 2005 CONVENTION ON THE PROTECTION AND PROMOTION OF THE DIVERSITY OF CULTURAL EXPRESSIONS (“THE CONVENTION”)

The Convention is a legally binding international agreement that ensures artists, cultural professionals, practitioners and citizens worldwide can create, produce, distribute/disseminate and enjoy a broad range of cultural goods, services and activities, including their own.

Recognizing that culture can no longer be just a by-product of development, but rather the mainspring for sustainable development, the Convention ushers in a new international framework for the governance and management of culture by:

- ▶ Encouraging the introduction of cultural policies and measures that nurture creativity, provide access for creators to participate in domestic and international marketplaces where their artistic works/expressions can be recognized and compensated and ensure these expressions are accessible to the public at large;

- ▶ Recognising and optimising the overall contribution of the cultural industries to economic and social development, particularly in developing countries;
- ▶ Integrating culture into sustainable development strategies and national development policies;
- ▶ Promoting international cooperation to facilitate the mobility of artists as well as the flow of cultural goods and services, especially those from the global South.

EXPERT FACILITY TO STRENGTHEN THE SYSTEM OF GOVERNANCE FOR CULTURE IN DEVELOPING COUNTRIES (“THE PROJECT”)

As a Party to the Convention, the European Union actively contributes to its implementation. The programme, “Investing in People”, through the “Access to Local Culture, Protection and Promotion of Cultural Diversity” strand, has been especially important in supporting initiatives since 2007, and in this case, has provided UNESCO with funding to create an expert facility to strengthen the system of governance for culture in developing countries.

The Project aims to reinforce the role of culture as a vector for sustainable development and poverty reduction by providing high-level expertise designed to strengthen human and institutional capacities in beneficiary countries at the national and local levels.

Technical assistance missions (maximum duration of 63 working days) will be undertaken by top experts in the field of cultural policies and be based on the needs and priorities identified by beneficiary countries through an application procedure. It will support beneficiaries in their efforts to:

- ▶ Establish legal, regulatory and/or institutional frameworks necessary to develop the culture sector in their country; and
- ▶ Introduce policies that address the role of culture in social and economic development, particularly through the fostering of cultural industries.
