(article 4)

Orientation Session for Committee Members
18 February 2016 – Paris, France

Paragraph 49 of the Operational Guidelines

“Outstanding universal value means cultural and/or natural significance which is so exceptional as to transcend national boundaries and to be of common importance for present and future generations of all humanity. As such, the permanent protection of this heritage is of the highest importance to the international community as a whole. The Committee defines the criteria for the inscription of properties on the World Heritage List”.

The fact that a property belonging to the cultural or natural heritage has not been included in either of the two lists mentioned in paragraphs 2 and 4 of Article 11 shall in no way be construed to mean that it does not have an outstanding universal value for purposes other than those resulting from inclusion in these lists. Why is this place important?

Criterion (iv): In the history of military architecture, the Fortress of Suomenlinna is an outstanding example of general fortification principles of the 17th and 18th centuries, notably the bastion system, and also showcases individual characteristics.

Does it tell the whole story?

Suomenlinna consists of several defensive and utilitarian buildings that blend the architecture and functionality of the fortress within the surrounding landscape. The property includes the islands upon which the fortress was built. This forms a consistent ensemble extensive enough to preserve and present the values of the property. Most of the fortifications and utilitarian buildings dating from the Swedish and Russian periods are well preserved. The fortress has only a few buildings dating from the Finnish era, but they retain their own distinctive identity. A sharp rise in sea level or increased rainfall could threaten the property.

Does it tell the story truthfully?

The fortifications and the various buildings, all dating from different eras, as well as the surrounding environment, help preserve Suomenlinna's characteristics, particularly with regard to building materials, methods and architecture. Since Suomenlinna became a residential area, traditional construction methods have been favoured to ensure the preservation of the property, and are implemented in a manner that respects its cultural and historical values.

Orientation Session for Committee Members
18 February 2016 – Paris, France

What is needed to assure its future?

- Strong and unequivocal legal protection
- Strong institutional framework
- Sufficient resources
- Effective management system is in place, including in the buffer zone.
- Maintenance of an effective and well-resourced management plan
- Long term issues:
 - Sea-level rise
 - Increased rainfall
 - Increased visitors to the property

Statement of Outstanding Universal Value

Paragraph 51:

At the time of inscription of a property on the World Heritage List, the Committee adopts a Statement of Outstanding Universal Value which will be the key reference for the future effective protection and management of the property.

STATEMENT OF OUV

- Brief summary
 - Summary of factual information
 - Summary of qualities
- Criteria (values and attributes which manifest them)
- Integrity (all sites)
- Authenticity (criteria i-vi)
- Management and protection requirements necessary to maintain OUV
 - Overall framework
 - Specific long-term expectations

Orientation Session for Committee Members
18 February 2016 – Paris, France

Statement of Outstanding Universal Value

- Why it is important to the committee
 - The Statement of Outstanding Universal Value shall be the basis for the future protection and management of the property (paragraph 155 of the Operational Guidelines)

 - Tentative Lists
 - Nomination Dossiers
 - ICOMOS and IUCN Evaluations
 - Committee Decisions
 - Periodic Reporting
 - Evaluations of State of Conservation
 - In-Danger Listing
 - Deletion from the World Heritage List

The importance of Statements of Outstanding Universal Value

A Statement of OUV is of great benefit to all involved in the conservation of the property as:

- it allows a clear understanding of why the property is considered to be of OUV;
- can give direction to management through indicating what attributes of the property need to be maintained;
- can guide the assessment of the state of conservation of the property; and
- is an essential reference point for monitoring, for the World Heritage Committee and the Advisory Bodies.

World Heritage: Thinking Ahead ... Taking Action

IUCN's response to the conclusions of the meeting on "The World Heritage Convention: Thinking Ahead" between the Director-General of UNESCO, States Parties to the World Heritage Convention and the Advisory Bodies to the World Heritage Committee

Held on 2nd and 3rd October 2012, UNESCO HQ, Paris
 IUCN response dated: 10 June 2013

The Director-General of UNESCO convened a two-day brainstorming meeting titled "Thinking Ahead", on the occasion of the 40th anniversary of the World Heritage Convention. IUCN's Director General and Director, World Heritage Programme participated in this meeting.

IUCN welcomes the initiative of the Director General of UNESCO and the report of the meeting issued subsequently by UNESCO. Below IUCN notes its response to each of the conclusions of the meeting. We also note in Annex 1 IUCN's original submission to the meeting.

1. Tentative Lists:

1.1 Meeting Conclusion: The Advisory Bodies should be engaged with the States Parties in the very first step of the nomination process i.e. in the preparation and assessment of Tentative Lists, and their regional harmonisation. This would ensure that only those sites that have the potential to meet the criteria for outstanding universal value, and contribute to filling the gaps on the World Heritage List are added to national tentative lists.

IUCN agrees with this conclusion. Along with many recommendations, we consider this implies the need for a more collaborative relationship between IUCN and States Parties. As a first step to make this proposal operational IUCN would welcome approaches from interested States Parties to request input to their Tentative Lists. We consider that regional workshops between States Parties and Advisory Bodies to focus on defining and prioritising Tentative Lists would be a practical means to address this request. We also consider additional guidance on Tentative Lists, translated into regional languages, and some case study examples with interested States Parties would be valuable. Regarding the final sentence, we note that the expectation that new sites fill gaps is a secondary consideration to the principal need to focus on sites that are of Outstanding Universal Value.

1.2 Meeting Conclusion: Tentative Lists that have been developed through such a rigorous screening process could be considered for some form of recognition, perhaps through a re-branding of the term "Tentative List" into "national inventory of significant/potential World Heritage sites" or as the "World Heritage candidate list".

IUCN partly agrees with this conclusion. The caveat is that unless the Tentative List itself is of high quality, the branding of the List will not necessarily address any major issues. We agree that Tentative List is a terminology that could be improved, but care is needed to ensure that the nature of this list remains clear and unambiguous.

IUCN also considers that the identification of Tentative Lists also needs to be better linked to the identification of areas seeking other UNESCO or other international recognition. A key point regarding all upstream measures is that they should not prejudice the evaluation processes and the rigorous cases within the Operational Guidelines.
