

14 March, 2013

Pakistan Museum of Natural History going online for entire world viewers

ISLAMABAD: United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) will help Pakistan Museum of Natural History (PMNH) in developing its online virtual tour so the entire world people, especially the researchers and students could benefit from its facilities, said UNESCO Country Director Dr Kozue Kay Nagata on Wednesday. At the launching ceremony of Audio Commentary Equipment, a facility for the visitors, donated by the UNESCO to PMNH, a subsidiary organization of Pakistan Science Foundation working under Ministry of Science and Technology (MoST) Dr Kay said UNESCO would also help PMNH in documentary on Shark Whale specimen's stuffing and exhibition process as well as digitization of the Museum collection.