

NGOs in the governance of biodiversity

Editorial adviser : Marie Roué

Marie Roué	NGOs, indigenous peoples and local knowledge: Issues of power in the arena of biodiversity
Edvard Hviding	Contested rainforests, NGOs and projects of desire in the Solomon Islands
Peter Bridgewater	Whaling or wailing?
Margarita Serje	Malocas and barracones . Tradition, biodiversity and participation in the Colombian Amazon
Dya Maria Wirawati Suharno & Claudine Friedberg	Resource management issues: NGOs relate to the new legal framework for local autonomy in Indonesia
Dinh Tronc Hiêu	Social sciences and biodiversity – connections between the global and the local in Viet Nam
Luiz C. Barbosa	Save the rainforest! NGOs and grassroots organisations in the dialectics of Brazilian Amazonia
David Dumoulin	Local knowledge in the hands of transnational NGO networks: a Mexican viewpoint
Florence Pinton	Traditional knowledge and areas of biodiversity in Brazilian Amazonia
Marie Roué	US environmental NGOs and Cree Indians. An unnatural alliance for the preservation of nature?
Brent Berlin & Elois Ann Berlin	NGOs and the process of Prior Informed Consent in bioprospecting research: the Maya ICBG project in Chiapas, Mexico
Philippe Descola	The issue of consent: a comment
Open Forum
Nico Stehr	The social and political control of knowledge in modern societies