

UNESCO-ICCBS Scholarships in Chemical and Biological Sciences

The International Center for Chemical and Biological Sciences (H.E.J. Research Institute of Chemistry and Dr. Panjwani Center for Molecular Medicine and Drug Research), Karachi, Pakistan, offers fellowships to young scientists from developing countries who wish to pursue postgraduate research in the fields of chemical, biological and biomedical sciences.

Located in University of Karachi, the International Center for Chemical and Biological Sciences (ICCBS) is one of the developing world's finest research institution and training centers in its field. The ICCBS carries out original research, training, product development and service delivery in the chemical, biological and biomedical sciences. The center also provides diagnostic, analytical and clinical testing for a broad range of clients on both the public and private sectors nationally and internationally.

The ICCBS has twice won the Islamic Development Banks (IDB) Prize for best Science and Technology Institution, in 2004 and 2010.

On Monday 21 November 2016, an agreement was signed by UNESCO's Director-General, Ms Irina Bokova and the Director of the International Center for Chemical and Biological Sciences (ICCBS), Prof. Dr. Muhammad Iqbal Choudhary to establish ICCBS as UNESCO category 2 center. The decision to place ICCBS under the auspices of UNESCO as a category 2 center was approved during the 38th General Conference of the Organization.

UNESCO has designated International and Regional Institutes and Centres as Category 2 under the auspices of UNESCO. Though not legally part of the Organization, these Institutes and Centres are associated with UNESCO through formal arrangements approved by the General Conference. They are selected upon proposal by Member State(s), based on the strength of their specialization in one of UNESCO's fields of competence. Through capacity-building knowledge sharing and research, they provide a valuable and unique contribution to the implementation of UNESCO's strategic programme objectives for the benefits of Member States.
