Many young lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and intersex people face bullying and violence, and simply walking into school every day can fill them with fear and dread.

Show that they can feel safe with you, in your classroom or school by wearing, drawing or making something purple.

After International Human Rights Day on 10 December, the best photos will be included in a new publication about bullying from UNESCO, UNDP and Being LGBT in Asia. Owners of all photos included will receive a copy of this.
