

United Nations
Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization

© World Bank/Curt Carmemark

International forum on inclusion and equity in education Every learner matters

11-13 September 2019 | Cali, Colombia

The 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development, with its focus on leaving no one behind, provides a unique opportunity to build more inclusive, just and fair societies. How do we ensure that everyone has equal chances and opportunities for education and how do we respond to the diverse needs of every learner? How can we overcome persistent barriers for vulnerable and marginalized groups? These are key questions that will be discussed at UNESCO's International forum on inclusion and equity in education: Every learner matters.

Join us

Join us as we revive our collective commitment to ensure that education systems around the world eliminate all forms of discrimination in the learning environment. UNESCO wants to hear what you have to say on issues that directly affect you. We want you, the youth of today, to be a central part of the discussions during the Forum. It is about your education and your future.

Make your voice heard

On Twitter (from 1 to 25 August 2019)

- Complete this sentence on Twitter: #InclusioninEducation matters because...
  - Keep it short (no more than 5 words)
  - Add to your tweet: the attached visual, the web link and the dedicated hashtag #InclusionForum2019
- Our example: #InclusioninEducation matters because every learner matters on.unesco.org/InclusionInED
#InclusionForum2019 (+ visual)

Your contributions will be shared at the Forum with decision makers from around the world. Submit your tweet as early as possible to ensure your contributions are included.

More information

✉ inclusion@unesco.org

🌐 on.unesco.org/InclusionInED

🐦 @UNESCO

📘 UNESCO