I. Programming context

This document presents the programme of activities that the International Bureau of Education (IBE) proposes to undertake during 2015 (hereafter referred to as the “proposed programme”). It builds on the achievements registered during 2014. It also seeks to sharpen the focus of the IBE, deepen its impact especially in the field and consolidate the evidence of such impact.

As a UNESCO Category I Institute, the IBE’s proposed programme is closely aligned to UNESCO’s core functions and is guided by the Main Lines of Action (MLAs) and by the associated IBE Expected Results for 2014–2017 as articulated in the 37 C/5. Its presentation is therefore organized according to IBE’s Expected Results (see Textbox 1).

Textbox 1
Main Line of Action 1 (MLA 1)	Supporting Member States to develop education systems to foster high quality and inclusive lifelong learning opportunities for all
IBE Expected Result 1	Capacities of individuals and institutions for the design, development and implementation of quality curriculum processes enhanced, and curriculum innovation, reform and revision initiatives supported
IBE Expected Result 1a<sup>1</sup>	Member States’ capacity to analyze and address systemic constraints to their equitable provision of high-quality and development-relevant education and effective learning opportunities strengthened
Main Line of Action 3 (MLA 3)	Advancing Education for All (EFA) and shaping the future international education agenda
IBE Expected Result 2	A sound knowledge base to inform evidence-based decision making and practices in curriculum, learning and assessment reinforced, sustained and applied [implemented]

At the level of the Institute, the 2015 proposed programme is further guided by the IBE Strategy and Programme of Work 2012–2017 and by the need to accelerate progress towards attaining and sustaining the status of a global Centre of Excellence (CoE) in curriculum and related matters.

The acceleration of progress will be realized through a tighter focus on six core initiatives whose effective implementation should give effect to the three focus areas of the CoE strategy: capacity development and technical assistance, knowledge production and management, and policy dialogue. These six initiatives are:

Innovation and Leadership in Curriculum and Learning

(Norms and standard-setting function) This initiative is intended to reconceptualize and reposition curriculum as central to national and global development dialogue and interventions; and to do so within the context of the post-2015 Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). It is also intended to reposition curriculum as an indispensable tool for giving effect to policies on lifelong learning.

Critical Issues in Curriculum and Learning (Laboratory of ideas function) aimed at developing curriculum frameworks, guidelines and prototypes for areas of high demand and where Member States (MSs) have limited experience and/or areas where MSs are not making desired progress.

Knowledge Creation and Management in Curriculum and Learning (Clearinghouse function) meant to improve physical and substantive access to evidence-based knowledge required to guide curriculum design and development, as well as learning. This will be done by translating findings from cutting-edge research into easily accessible language that make implications for policy and practice explicit. It will also be done by making the knowledge accessible through print and through an IT platform.

Systemic Strengthening of Quality and Development Relevance of Education and Learning (Capacity builders function) aimed at strengthening the capacity of MSs to analyze and address critical impediments that prevent their equitable provision of quality and development-relevant education and effective lifelong learning opportunities.

Leadership for Global Dialogue on Curriculum and Learning (Intellectual leadership function) aimed at regularizing and strengthening the International Conference on Education (ICE) to reinforce the repositioning of the IBE as an effective and indispensable contributor to the attainment of SDGs related to education and to strengthen IBE’s position as the CoE in curriculum and learning.

Institutional and Organizational Development (Capacity builders function of the IBE) aimed at strengthening the IBE’s capacity to implement the CoE Strategy, and to carry out its mandate effectively.

II. IBE Expected Result 1

Capacities of individuals and institutions for the design, development and implementation of quality curriculum processes enhanced, and curriculum innovation, reform and revision initiatives supported

During 2015, the IBE will strengthen its global intellectual leadership role, as well as innovation in curriculum and learning. This will entail the preparation of a key paper to guide a paradigm shift in curriculum. Specifically the paper will seek to reconceptualize curriculum and to highlight its central position in national and global development dialogue and interventions. The IBE will also lead global consultation on the proposed paradigm through a network of MSs' curriculum institutions. During 2015, the IBE also proposes to reinforce the quality, level and geographical coverage of the Diploma course as well as consolidate post-training technical support.

Activities	Expected Impact	Risks	Risk Mitigation
1. Lead a paradigm shift in curriculum and learning and global dialogue on the proposed paradigm	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>The vision and understanding of curriculum broadened, renewed and owned by MSs</li><li>Policy documents, curriculum frameworks/guidelines and the syllabi produced by MSs guided by the new paradigm</li></ul>		<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Reach out to regional entities (Regional Economic Communities, bureaus, think-tanks, etc.) to convene regional consultations within their events</li></ul>
2. Strengthening global networks and partnerships for curriculum and learning	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Create a directory of the heads of all national curriculum institutions and agencies</li><li>Expand the Diploma Alumni Network, launched in 2014</li><li>Refine the Community of Practice (COP) in Curriculum Development as a tool for knowledge sharing on curriculum issues, trends and practices</li></ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>Imbalanced regional participation and therefore ownership</li></ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"><li>The value-added of the IBE and its followership beginning to emerge as evidenced by participation and endorsement of the proposed paradigm</li></ul>

3. Reinforce the quality of the Postgraduate Diploma Course in Curriculum Design and Development <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Diploma graduates assuming leadership and management roles in implementing curriculum innovations</li> <li>• Revise and update the face-to-face and on-line sessions</li> <li>• Deepen the training of facilitators and tutors to better facilitate the course</li> <li>• Update the Curriculum Resource Pack and Diploma training materials to add thematic modules on critical and current issues in curriculum and learning</li> <li>• Trace the impact of the Diploma courses in the field</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Low completion rate of course due to workload</li> <li>• MOEs not recognizing and using the Diploma course for professional incentives</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Enhance the flexibility of the coursework and personalized pace of completion</li> </ul>
4. Upgrade the Diploma Course to a Master's level <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Upgrading the Diploma course with a consortium of universities and teacher training institutions, initially from Africa and Latin America and the Caribbean, and possibly the Arab States and North America</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Higher professionalization of curriculum design and development processes</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• MSs lack resources to finance the participation of MOE and related-institutions staff in the Master's programme</li> <li>• Intensify resource mobilization for scholarships</li> </ul>
5. Provide tailored technical assistance based on country needs identified by former trainees (post-training interventions) and national authorities	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Quality of national curricula improving</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Piecemeal approaches to curricula reforms remain entrenched and resistant</li> <li>• Strengthen dialogue with MSs on the importance of systemic and sustained approach to curriculum reforms</li> </ul>
6. Sustain and expand the geographical coverage of the Diploma Course <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Implement the Diploma courses in Africa (fourth edition) and Latin America and the Caribbean (sixth edition)</li> <li>• Prepare for expansion to Arab States and Asia from 2016 onwards</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• The critical mass required to adequately lead, manage and assess curriculum change approaching required thresholds</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• MSs lack resources to finance the participation of MOE and related-institutions staff in the Diploma programme</li> <li>• Explore potential sources of scholarships</li> </ul>

The IBE will also address critical issues in curriculum by developing curriculum frameworks, guidelines and prototypes in areas of high demand and where MSs have limited experience. During 2015 the IBE will focus on only three critical areas: reading in early grades, global citizenship education and early childhood care and education. Furthermore, lessons of experience will be used to initiate the preparation of a compendium of strategies and methodologies for mainstreaming critical issues into the curriculum and syllabi without overloading the curriculum.

Activities	Expected Impact	Risks	Risk Mitigation
7. Strengthen MSs' capacity to design and develop curricula in reading in early grades Implement the second year of the three-year project, Learning outcomes in reading in early grades (2013-16) with the Global Partnership for Education (GPE), to support Burkina Faso, Niger and Senegal in their efforts to improve students' reading in the first three years of primary education. Activities planned for 2015 include: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>Senegal: Conduct workshops on the production of monolingual and bilingual teaching guidelines for reading/writing, teacher-training modules on French pedagogy and reading, and on the revision of teacher-training modules.</li> <li>Niger: Conduct workshops on the production of two modules on pre-service teacher training and a supplementary guide on using the modules, training sessions on the effective use of the modules and guide; and lead a sensitization campaign on the importance of reading for quality education.</li> <li>Burkina Faso: Conduct workshops on the production of a teacher-training module on reading, a guide on teaching reading/writing, and a toolbox for teachers. ### III. IBE Expected Result 1a

Member States' capacity strengthened to analyze and address systemic constraints to their equitable provision of quality and development-relevant education and learning

A key part of the IBE mandate is to support MSs' effort to equitably improve learning outcomes through high-quality and contextually responsive curricula. At the same time the IBE recognizes that effective and impactful curriculum implementation depends on the effective functioning of other parts of the education system. Moreover, the curriculum is closely connected to most if not all other critical elements of the education system. Thus an otherwise excellent curriculum can be seriously undermined by the: lack of teachers who are qualified to deliver it; physical teaching and learning environments that are ill-suited for delivering it; an assessment system that fails to assess what is in the curriculum; psycho-social circumstances that render learners ineffective at learning; ineffective pedagogy and learning processes and more. For its effectiveness at supporting education quality, development-relevance, and effective learning, curriculum must be nested within a well-functioning education system. For its key contribution to UNESCO's efforts to support quality education and lifelong learning for all and, for enabling the curriculum, in 2015 the IBE will:

- Strengthen MSs' capacity to analyze, identify, and prioritize critical constraints to their equitable provision of quality education and effective learning opportunities and to develop and implement responsive interventions.

Activities	Expected Impact	Risks	Risk Mitigation
1. Support a systemic analysis of critical constraints in 3 countries	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• MSs' capacity to undertake a systemic analysis of impediments to equitable provision of quality education and effective learning opportunities in 3 countries strengthening</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Slow pace of participating countries</li> <li>• Frequent changes in country leadership break or stop initiatives</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• Selection of relatively more stable national centres in education as focal points for the work</li> </ul>
2. Support the development and implementation of interventions to redress identified systemic constraints in 8 countries that have already undertaken the analysis	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• MSs' operational capacity to design, develop and implement interventions that enhance education quality and learning effectiveness in 8 countries strengthening</li> </ul>	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>• South-south cooperation and sharing of expertise continues to be facilitated</li> </ul>
3. Update and improve the database of promising practices in systemic improvement of education quality and learning effectiveness
4. Establish twinning arrangements with 2 institutions that focus on improving the quality of education and effective learning

IV. IBE Expected Result 2

A sound knowledge base to inform evidence-based decision making and practices in curriculum, learning and assessment reinforced, sustained and applied [implemented]

During 2015 the IBE will reinforce its role as a global intellectual leader in matters pertaining to curriculum and learning. This will entail the augmentation of the analytical knowledge and the evidence-base required to inform decisions and practices on curriculum, learning and assessment. Concocted effort will also be made to strengthen the dissemination of knowledge to targeted audience with priority placed on curriculum specialists, teachers, learners and policy makers. Specific activities under this part of the programme will include the creation of new knowledge, the management of existing knowledge with a specific view to bridge the gap between knowledge creation and application, effective knowledge dissemination, and strengthening the physical infrastructure for knowledge management.

Activities	Expected Impact	Risks	Risk Mitigation
1. ### International Conference on Education (ICE)

During 2015 the IBE will strengthen its role as the Secretariat for the ICE and will effectively support MSSs in preparing for the Conference tentatively proposed for November 2016. The IBE will work under the strategic guidance of the Council to ensure substantial alignment of the ICE to the core mandate of the IBE, improvement of the quality of the content of the Conference, and ensure more impactful global dialogue and advocacy through the ICE.

Activities	Expected Impact	Risks	Risk Mitigation

V. Institutional and Organizational Development

The impact expected of the IBE and most importantly, satisfactory progress toward a CoE status cannot be attained without concerted effort at strengthening the delivery capacity of IBE itself. The first and pre-requisite step toward this end was undertaken during 2014 when the IBE sharpened and articulated core initiatives through which it will operationalize the CoE strategy and accelerate progress toward the CoE status. During 2015 the focus will be on enabling the IBE to improve its implementation and impact. Specifically, the proposed programme will: appropriately reposition IBE in the sector, strategically reposition IBE in national and global development dialogue, re-profile and expand IBE human resources and expertise base, diversify and expand IBE's strategic partnerships, diversify and expand the financial resources of the IBE; strengthen quality assurance; and strengthen capacity to collect evidence of the impact of programmes especially at the field level.

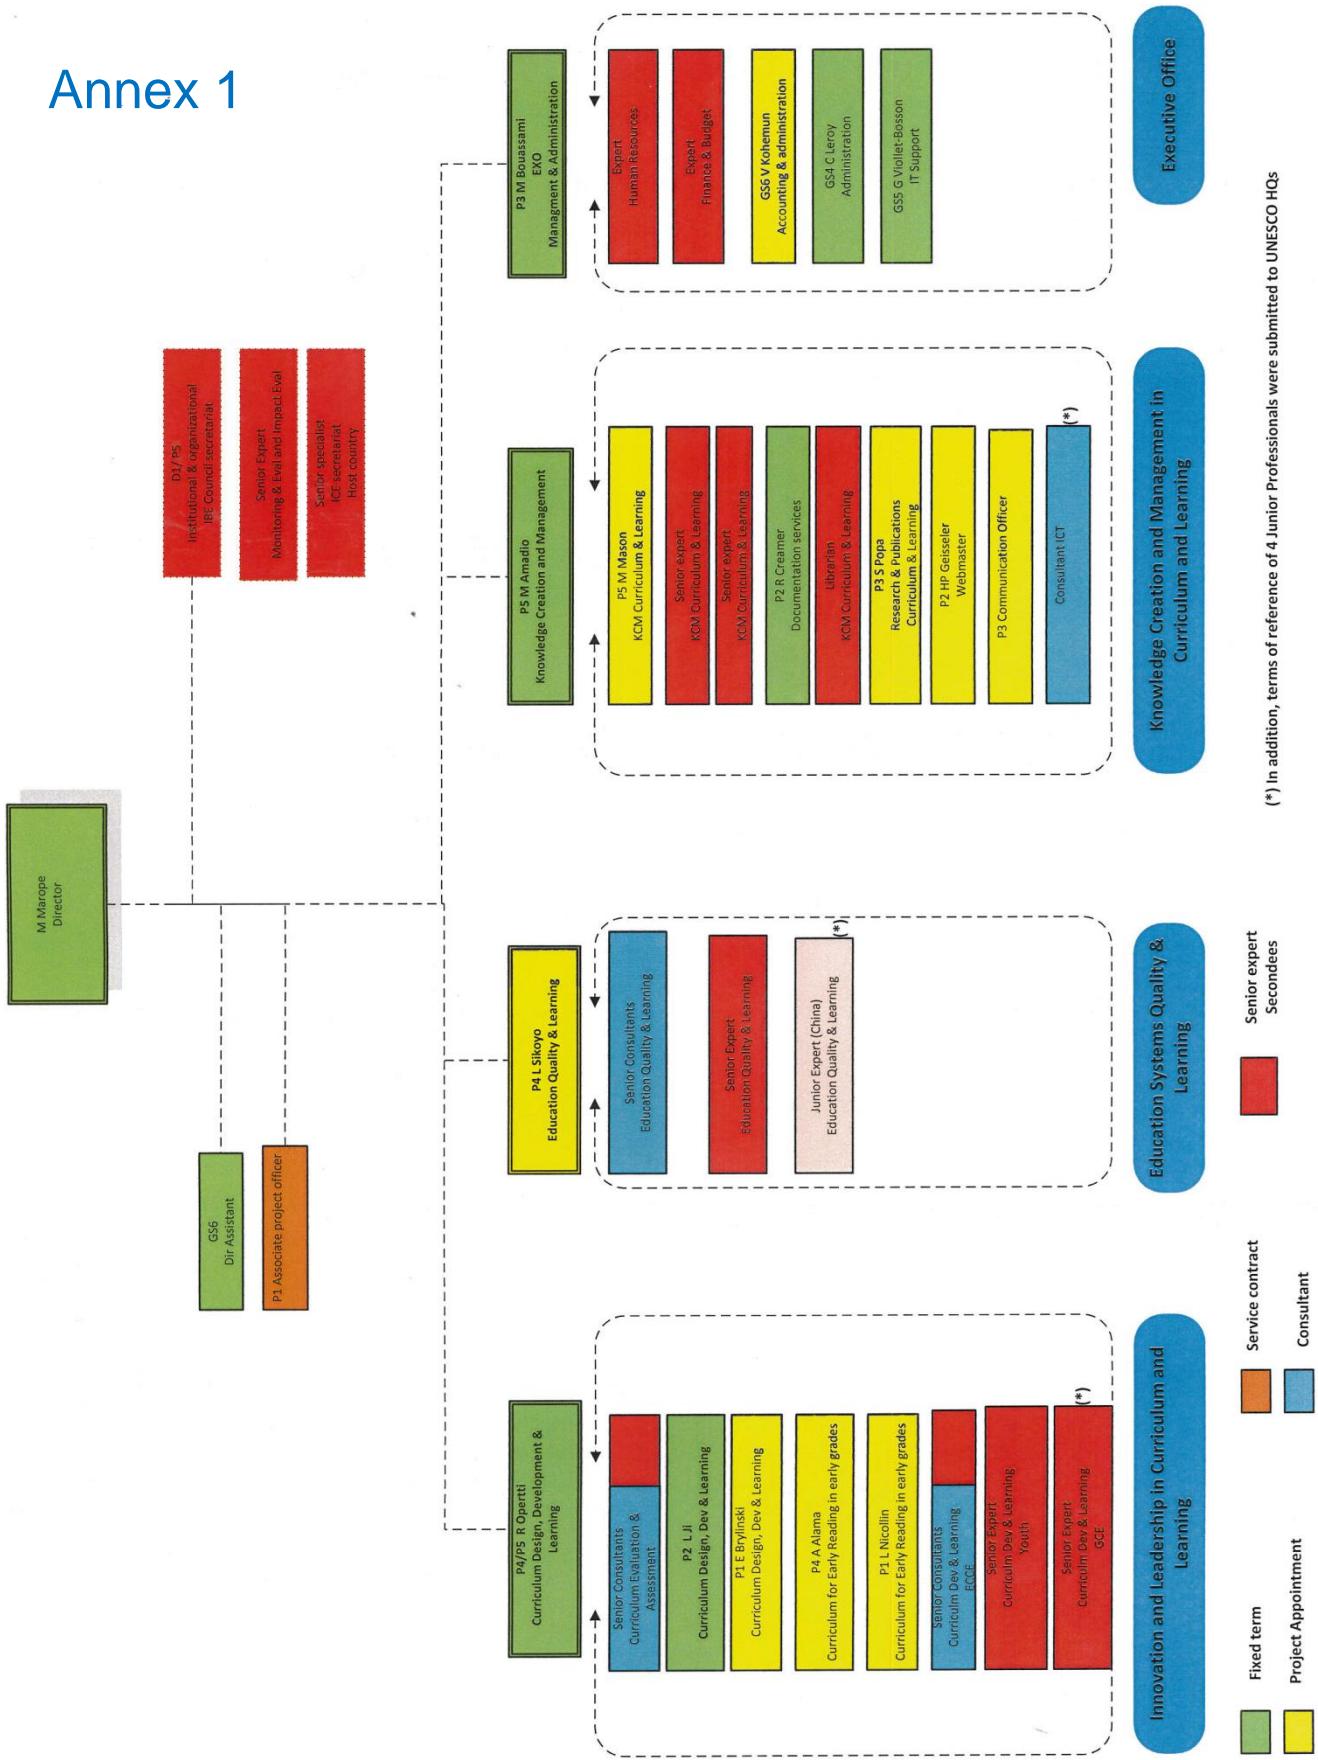

Activities	Expected Impact	Risks	Risk Mitigation
1. Align the organizational structure to core initiatives required to operationalize the CoE Strategy <ul style="list-style-type: none"> <li>See new organizational structure in Annex 1</li> <li>Strengthen core institutional processes particularly communication and information flow, work flow and workload distribution and knowledge sharing</li> </ul>
