

Social media messages for #HerEducationOurFuture

About

UNESCO is launching “Her education, our future”, a new drive to fast-track girls’ and women’s education and accelerate action by leveraging political and financial commitments, as well as leadership for women and girls. Her education, our future will be launched on 5 July 2019 at the G7 France-UNESCO International Conference Innovating for girls’ and women’s empowerment through education. Join #HerEducationOurFuture and be a part of our collective movement to advance girls’ and women’s education.

Hashtag

#HerEducationOurFuture is the main hashtag of the initiative.

#G7France and #G7Equality will be used during the launch of the initiative on 5 July 2019.

Facebook / Twitter / LinkedIn / Instagram

Too many girls and women are still held back from accessing quality #education. But their education is the most powerful investment for our collective future.

Our new drive, #HerEducationOurFuture, will be launched this week.

□ on.unesco.org/HerEducation #G7France

Educated girls become empowered women.

Yet there are many obstacles blocking the path to their #RightToEducation. This is why @UNESCO's new drive is accelerating action through:

- ✓ better data to inform action
- ✓ better legislation, policy & planning to advance rights
- ✓ better practices to empower

Learn more □ on.unesco.org/HerEducation #HerEducationOurFuture #G7France

For twitter:

Educated girls become empowered women. @Unesco's drive #HerEducationOurFuture ensures their #RightToEducation through better:

- ✓ data to inform action

✓ legislation, policy & planning to advance rights

✓ practices to empower

on.unesco.org/HerEducation #G7France

✗ 132 million girls are out of school

✗ 2 out of 3 adults without basic literacy skills are women

✗ 1% of the poorest girls will complete secondary education

See how we make the change 📄 on.unesco.org/HerEducation #HerEducationOurFuture #G7France

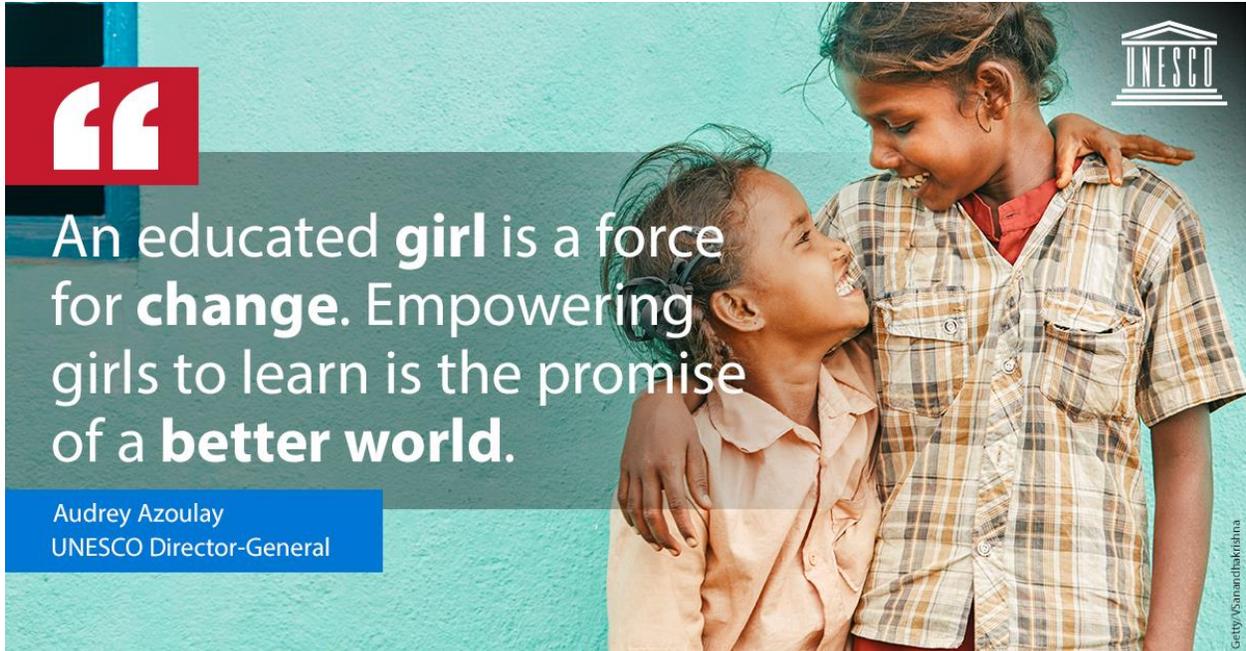

#Education helps girls and women achieve their goals! 🌍👧👩📖

Join @UNESCO's new drive fast-tracking girls' and women's education around the world!
on.unesco.org/HerEducation #HerEducationOurFuture #G7France

Do you know the state of girls' and women's #RightToEducation around the world? Check out @UNESCO's new interactive atlas! 🌍📖 on.unesco.org/HerEducation #HerEducationOurFuture #G7France

An educated girl is a force for change. Empowering girls to learn is the promise of a better world.

Audrey Azoulay
UNESCO Director-General

Getty/Vasanthakrishna

Educating a girl means transforming our future for the better.

Join @UNESCO's #HerEducationOurFuture and be a part of our collective movement to advance girls' and women's #education.

Learn more on.unesco.org/HerEducation #G7France

Education has empowered me to empower others.

Bonita Sharma, Nepal

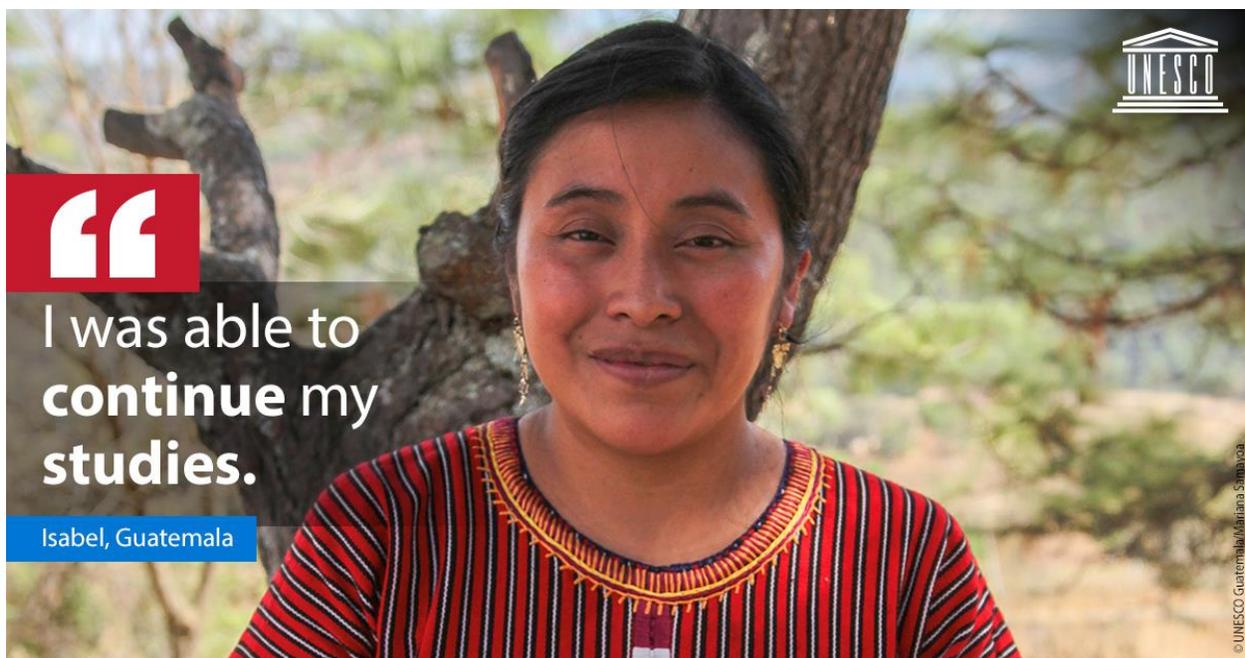

© UNESCO/Nijana Sharma

"I believe that education influences the entire life cycle of a girl." Meet Bonita, a young change-maker who's inspiring girls and women in Nepal through #education <https://on.unesco.org/2Se4CWs> #HerEducationOurFuture

This is Meron, a 17 year-old girl from Ethiopia.

At her school, she's spreading powerful messages & raising awareness on #GenderEquality one poem at a time. <http://on.unesco.org/2ESwZlk> #HerEducationOurFuture

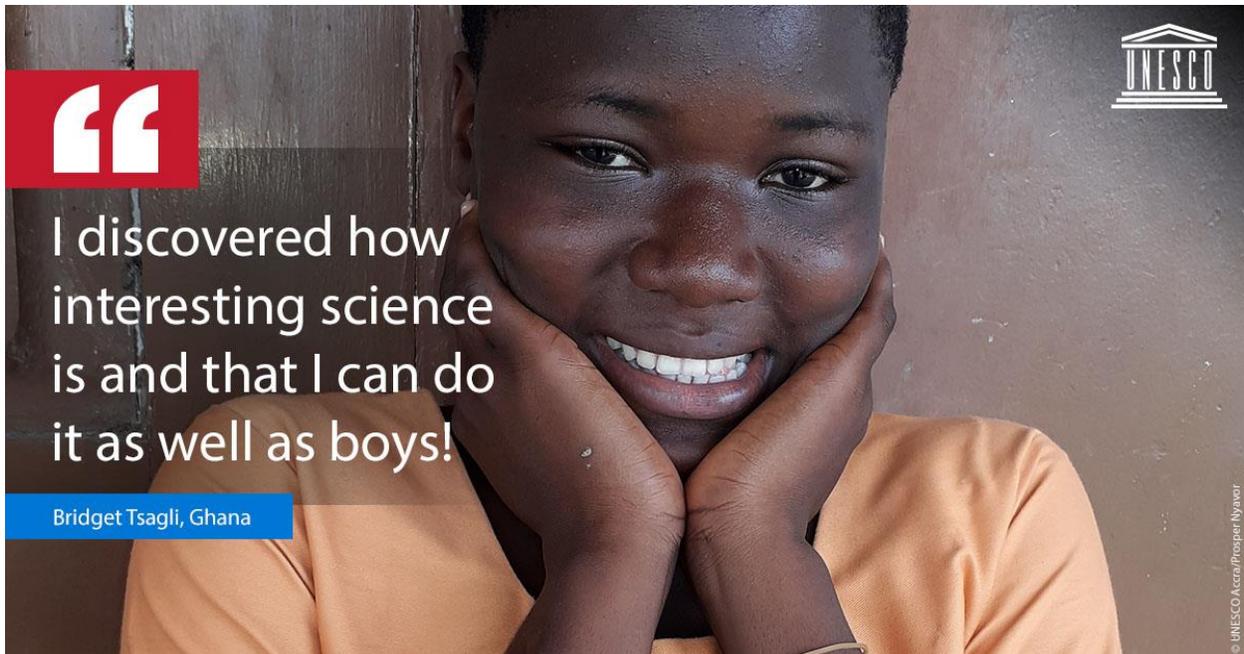

“I was married at the age of 15, so I could not finish school,” says Isabel from Guatemala. At age 23, she set out to continue her education. This is her story □ <https://on.unesco.org/2X1t8wz>
#HerEducationOurFuture

Natacha Obienne, 21, comes from Madagascar. She took a @UNESCO's vocational training course & got empowered with the skills she needed to set up her own fish farming business. She became financially independent.

Read her story □ <https://on.unesco.org/2EohLE8> #HerEducationOurFuture

I discovered how interesting science is and that I can do it as well as boys!

Bridget Tsagli, Ghana

© UNESCO/Actra/Prosper Nyavor

“I wanted to be a doctor since my childhood but I was afraid of science because I mostly hear many people say it is difficult.”

See how we empowered more than 1,200 girls in #Ghana to pursue science courses & careers:
<https://on.unesco.org/2RGRXZn> #HerEducationOurFuture

We need a greater political commitment to gender equality in the form of laws and policies

#HerEducationOurFuture

© Save the Children/Jonathan Hyams

121272

This is the number of countries and territories that still allow children to marry.

Laws must ban child marriage and enable pregnant students to go to school.

Bit.ly/2019gemreportgender #HerEducationOurFuture #G7France

New Gender @GEMReport released at #G7Equality shows that 1/3 countries still do not have equal numbers of girls to boys in primary school.

Bit.ly/2019gemreportgender #HerEducationOurFuture

Contact

Aezana Yohannes, Communication Specialist, UNESCO Education Sector
a.yohannes@unesco.org