Michał Guć, Gdynia's Deputy Mayor for Innovation, chairman of Gdynia's working group for learning city:

“We’ve started a talk on how to use the potential of the municipal institutions and units so Gdynia’s citizens could have access to as wide as possible offer of activities and open events fitting their expectations. We did not expect that we would have to use one of the channels we considered important yet not essential. Today I urge each and every one of you to: #stayhome and we – representatives of the municipal institutions of culture, history, sports or science – shall make it worth your while. Perhaps you’ll have to move around a bit, maybe rack your heads or even get your hands dirty but always with a sense that we’ve done something interesting and have learned something new. I encourage to check websites and social media of Gdynia’s institutions. There are many valuable offers for everyone”
