Questions

1. What are your priorities for issues that should be addressed through the Internet Universality framework in each of these five categories?

Rights	I believe people are all equal
--------	--------------------------------

Openness	Powerful countries should not dominate the weak states
----------	--

Accessibility	We have to take a certain time to communicate with us
---------------	---

Multistakeholder participation	An experienced person can work in different fields
--------------------------------	--

Cross-cutting indicators	The link between the indicators must definitely be found and answered
--------------------------	---

2. Are there are any existing indicators with which you are familiar that you think it would be useful to include in the ROAM indicators framework?

Rights	Poverty Terrorism Unemployment depression and ...
--------	---

Openness	Yemen And Other war-torn countries All are oppressed
----------	--

Accessibility	Facebook and Instagram are good communication channels, especially Facebook
---------------	---

Multistakeholder participation	We have to take priorities
--------------------------------	----------------------------

Cross-cutting indicators	We need to find a common point to create solidarity
--------------------------	---

3. What do you think are the most important gaps in data/evidence required for monitoring Internet Universality and the ROAM principles? What approaches do you think could help to address these in your country, region or area of work?

Rights	Schooling in deprived areas and building hospitals and promoting the school's academic level and reducing training costs ...

Openness	I am a midwife and I'm not happy with my work because they do not need midwife in my city of Tehran
----------	---

Accessibility	The needy, the poor and the children of work should be given more attention
---------------	---

Multistakeholder participation	Good and capable people must be identified
--------------------------------	--

Cross-cutting indicators	A person with a specific feature can be useful at many times
--------------------------	--

4. What experience or views do you have of indicators relating to the Internet which are concerned with gender and with children and young people?

The communication world should be under control, especially young people at risk of harm; parents and experienced people should be careful about them, as well as educating them on the schools and television.

5. How do you think you might use the indicator framework for Internet Universality once it has been developed?

Everything is reformable by training and repetition and culture; children should be educated from the beginning.

6. How do you think that other stakeholders might use the framework? They can be good sponsors

7. Please add any other comments that you think will be helpful to UNESCO in developing the indicators framework.

UNESCO is a familiar name and symbol of peace and friendship; the reconciliation of nations and the avoidance of war and bloodshed has always been a bad reflection of the fact that everyone, at every place, should be the messenger of peace and believe in equality and brotherhood.

8. Please upload any documents that you think will be helpful here. image.jpg
