How would you define the stakeholder community or communities to which you belong? Independent information rights regulatory authority

Questions

1. What are your priorities for issues that should be addressed through the Internet Universality framework in each of these five categories?

Rights	Data protection and privacy on the internet
Openness	Freedom of information and access to information for individuals
Accessibility
Multistakeholder participation
Cross-cutting indicators

2. Are there are any existing indicators with which you are familiar that you think it would be useful to include in the ROAM indicators framework?

Rights	Effectiveness of national or regional regulatory authorities providing access to redress for individuals for data protection and freedom of information rights

Openness
Accessibility
Multistakeholder participation
Cross-cutting indicators

3. What do you think are the most important gaps in data/evidence required for monitoring Internet Universality and the ROAM principles? What approaches do you think could help to address these in your country, region or area of work?

Rights	Not just the existence of an independent data protection authority but the effectiveness of the data protection authority in each jurisdiction
Openness
Accessibility
Multistakeholder participation
Cross-cutting indicators

4. What experience or views do you have of indicators relating to the Internet which are concerned with gender and with children and young people?

We are currently developing guidance according to the new European General Data Protection Regulation relating to the effective data protection practice for children/young people. We would be happy to share a copy (when it is published) with UNESCO in case it would be useful information for this project.

5. How do you think you might use the indicator framework for Internet Universality once it has been developed?

To be decided. It depends what it contains as a final product.

6. How do you think that other stakeholders might use the framework?

7. Please add any other comments that you think will be helpful to UNESCO in developing the indicators framework.

8. Please upload any documents that you think will be helpful here.
