One (1) ancient object was stolen from the Archaeological Museum of Nemea, Corinthia region, Greece.

Namely, it is a carnelian bead, found during the archaeological excavations of the Mycenaean cemetery of Aidonia, Corinthia region. The exact time of the theft is not known, though it is earlier than 11-08-2016.