8. General Information about Japan

Time Zone

All of Japan is in the same time zone, GMT/UTC + 9 hours, which is usually referred to as Japan Standard Time (JST). There is no daylight savings time system.

Weather

Average temperatures in Okayama and Nagoya in November range between 7.5°C (45°F) and 17°C (63°F). A jacket, sweater, or similar items are appropriate. A coat may be needed on some days. We recommend that you also bring an umbrella.

Official Language

The official language in Japan is Japanese. English is spoken and understood in some hotels and restaurants.

Currency, Traveler Checks, Credit Cards and Exchange Rates

The Japanese currency is called the yen (JPY: Japanese Yen). The current exchange rate (as of October 2014) is approximately 1 Euro = 140 JPY and 1 USD = 110 JPY.

Cash is the most widely accepted method of payment, and you can pay for a 99 yen product with a 10,000 yen note. You can exchange money at the airport, foreign exchange banks, larger post offices, a limited number of hotels, and other authorized exchanges upon presentation of your passport. Bank counters are open 9 am to 3 pm, post office financial services from 9 am to 4 pm. We encourage you to exchange your money at the airport upon arrival. There is not much difference in exchange rates and commissions between banks in the city and at the airport.

You can draw cash on your credit card or debit card at ATM cash machines at all post offices (found in every neighborhood; not 24 hrs) and in all 7-Eleven stores (usually open 24 hrs). These ATMs accept most overseas debit cards and credit cards with PINs. Other bank ATMs in Japan generally do not accept overseas cards.

Major credit cards such as Visa, Mater Card, American Express, Diners Club and JCB are widely accepted at hotels, department stores, shops and restaurants. Many smaller business accept only cash. Bank cards or debit cards cannot be used for payment in Japan.

Traveler's checks are only accepted for exchange in banks and post offices, and, in general, cannot be used to purchase goods and services.

Consumption/Sales Tax

There is a flat rate 8% consumption tax (sales tax) on all purchases. For visitors with temporary stay status, some products including food, medicines and cosmetics are tax-exempt at participating stores.

*See the Japan Tax-free Shopping Guide at <http://tax-freeshop.jnto.go.jp/eng/index.php> for further details.

Tipping

Tipping is not practiced in Japan for any services.

Electricity

The voltage used throughout Japan is uniformly 100 volts, AC, with frequency of 60Hz in Okayama and Nagoya. All outlets accept only Type A plug (2-flat-pin plugs). It is therefore advised to purchase a plug adapter beforehand if needed.

Type A plug

Water

Tap water is safe for drinking in Japan. Mineral water and other beverages can be purchased at supermarkets, convenience stores, vending machines, etc. A 500 ml bottle of mineral water costs about JPY150.

Mobile Phones & Telephones

Mobile phones:

While most newer mobile phone models can be used in Japan, many older phones may not work due to different technologies. Most importantly, there is no GSM network in Japan, so GSM-only phones do not work. The following are needed for a handset to work in Japan:

The handset must be compatible with a Japanese mobile phone network (typically 3G UMTS 2100 MHz, 3G CDMA2000 800 MHz, or LTE band 1). Most modern 3G and 4G phones are compatible with one or more of these networks. Compatible handsets may be used via international roaming (check with your home provider for details) or a rental or prepaid SIM card from a Japanese carrier (unlocked handsets only). Alternatively, phones with WiFi connectivity can use internet-based (VoIP) telephone services, such as Skype, when connected to a WiFi network.

Mobile phones are available for rental at international airports. It is possible to pick up a phone at Kansai International Airport and return it at Chubu Centrair or another international airport.

Public telephones:

Public telephones can be found in hotels, the conference venue, and throughout the city. International calls can be made from NTT grey public telephones and others that are marked as such. Telephone cards are sold at convenience stores, kiosks and vending machines.

In-room telephones at hotels:

Both international and domestic calls can be made from in-room telephones, although the telephone charges are rather high. The charges can be settled at the time of check out. Optionally, prepaid cards for international calls can be purchased upon arrival at the airport to use in the hotel rooms.

Internet Access

At hotels:

In Osaka and Nagoya, WiFi is available in the rooms.

In Okayama, LAN cable access is available in the rooms while WiFi is available in the lobby.

At conference venues:

In Okayama, WiFi is likely to be available, but this is still to be confirmed.

In Nagoya, WiFi is available at conference venue.

SIM cards

SIM cards can be purchased at the JAL/ABC arrival counter on the first floor of Kansai Airport.
