BILT Atlas of emerging trends in new qualifications and competencies in TVET

July 2021-Jan. 2022 – scoping surveys to map current trends in new qualifications and competencies in Africa and Asia-Pacific

- What are the needs and challenges of TVET stakeholders in A-P and Africa? Strategies in place to respond to new skills demands?
- Survey and interviews of TVET experts, including from the UNEVOC Network and WorldSkills International Network. Africa: 223 experts in 34 countries; Asia-Pacific: 127 experts in 37 countries.

2022 – research of data & statistics on contextual trends

Nov. 2022 – release of the ‘Atlas of emerging trends in new qualifications and competencies in TVET’

- Targets identification, integration and implementation of new qualifications and competencies in TVET, with a focus on two themes: dual green and digital transition
- Brings together data & trends from different sources: BILT survey, UNESCO-UNEVOC, UIS, World Bank, ILO, EC, AfDB, African Union among others

BILT Atlas of emerging trends in new qualifications and competencies in TVET

Objective

- to “help TVET stakeholders reflect upon, and share knowledge about, the challenges and opportunities facing TVET systems”

Features

- navigate through a gallery of tiles to view the full content
- Asia-Pacific and Europe section coming soon, follow our postings

<https://atlas.unevoc.unesco.org>

The Atlas is a living resource

- As more information is gathered through regular BILT activities,
  - Scoping surveys
  - BILT Expert Group on the dual green and digital transition
  - Bridging events

the Atlas will be updated with new pages – challenges, opportunities, case studies.

- We look forward to finding together best ways to address the challenges and capitalize on the opportunities facing TVET systems!
