In 2020-2021, completed the Baccalieu Trail Traditional Knowledge Inventory. The Traditional Knowledge Inventory is intended as a pilot project to: (1) identify existing knowledge holders such as craft producers, storytellers, musicians, interpretive guides, and artisans; (2) create a series of case studies of those knowledge holders already working in some way in the creative economy; and (3) to disperse that information while connecting tradition bearers with traditional tourism providers who could in turn utilize their services.

In addition, continued with ongoing social media, blogging, and recording of 200 podcast episodes, community documentation.

Conducted oral history interview and hosting subsequent public lecture (via zoom) with snowshoe maker Edwin Bishop of Heart's Delight-Islington, in partnership with The Rooms Museum.

Created a new case study series presenting information on the link between ICH and community develop, entrepreneurialism, and social enterprise.

B.7. Describe your organization's involvement in measures to ensure greater recognition of, respect for and enhancement of ICH, in particular those referred to in Article 14, ODs 105 to 109 and OD 155:

- a. educational, awareness-raising and information programmes aimed at the general public, in particular young people;
- b. educational and training programmes within the communities and groups concerned;
- c. capacity-building activities for the safeguarding of ICH;
- d. non-formal means of transmitting knowledge;
- e. education for the protection of natural spaces and places of memory whose existence is necessary for expressing ICH.

Explain, in particular, how your organization cooperates with communities, groups and, where relevant, individuals when participating in such measures.

Completed the Knit, Purl, Listen project in cooperation with the Craft Council of NL, as part of the Collective Memories project to showcase the knowledge of local seniors. This project taught students how to interview local seniors (in this case textile artists) and then produced a print and digital booklet showcasing the knowledge of seniors.

Developed the Come Home Café series at The Rooms provincial museum, a celebration of rural community life, culture, and history. It is both a mini-reunion, and a way to share a taste of the unique culture of our local places with those who grew up elsewhere. Each Come Home Café will focus on a different, special Newfoundland and Labrador town, and includes stories, memories, music, and more. These have been halted with Covid-19, but will resume.

Completed the Memory Mug Up project funded by New Horizons for Seniors, including a pdf-only version of a booklet of stories by local seniors.

Developed the People, Places, and Culture workshops - these are interactive community workshops which involve asset mapping, community storytelling, and discussion of safeguarding measures.

Disseminates information on community-level ICH with the clear consent of community practitioners; includes information on consent issues in all workshops on ICH inventorying and documentation.

C. Bilateral, sub-regional, regional and international cooperation

Report on any activities carried out by your organization at the bilateral, subregional, regional or international levels for the implementation of the Convention, including initiatives such as the exchange of information and experience, and other joint initiatives, as referred to in Article 19 and OD 156. You may, for example, consider the following issues:

- a. sharing information and documentation concerning shared ICH (OD 87);
- b. participating in regional cooperation activities including, for example, those of category 2 centres for ICH established under the auspices of UNESCO (OD 88);
- c. developing networks of NGOs, communities, experts, centres of expertise and research institutes at subregional and regional levels to develop joint and interdisciplinary approaches concerning shared ICH (OD 86).
